We are more united than we think.

The latest PSA for StoryCorps' One Small Step initiative offers a simple yet powerful solution to help mend our country's divides. Across the nation, strangers with different political views are having conversations—not to debate politics—but to get to know each other as people and discovering their shared humanity in the process. These meaningful conversations reveal that, despite our differences, we have much in common.

Air One Small Step today and help StoryCorps bring our country together—one conversation at a time. Download the PSA, One Small Step at PSAdirect.com/StoryCorps.
