

UP TO 1 MILLION SPECIES FACE EXTINCTION.

Defenders.org

For many, the outdoors is a place of peace, unity, and shared purpose. Whether fishing the same waters, roaming the same fields, or raising families under the same sky, we are bound by a common love for wildlife and wild places.

In their new PSA, We Are Closer Than You Think, Defenders of Wildlife reminds viewers that up to one million species are facing extinction and we are their last line of defense. It's not about left or right. It is about right and wrong—standing together to protect the wildlife we all cherish.

Air We Are Closer Than You Think today and inspire your audience to unite for the future of America's wildlife. With your support we can rally a movement to preserve our wild world and the animals who call it home for generations to come.
